

How to dispose of left-over grease from frying and cooking oil:

Wipe the grease off your baking tray or frying pan using disposable paper towel, or pour it into an empty PET bottle. Throw the paper or bottle away in your ordinary bin, since these are classified as residual waste (i.e., non-recyclable, non-reusable waste).

Scan the QR code with your mobile phone for more information on how oil/grease can block your drain.

